BRAND HISTORY

In 1914 The Wilde family founded a dental factory named Wilde in the Rheingau region of Germany. In the 60s more than 500 people were working on synthetic prosthetics. Based on this knowledge the idea for the foundation of Wilde Cosmetics was born. The light-curing resins were used to extend and strengthen fingernails. This was the birth of “Light Concept Nails” which during the following years was cut short into the brand name “LCN”.

UK DISTRIBUTION

Fast forward to January 2019 and after 20 successful years selling to salons, wholesalers, nail technicians and beauticians the LCN brand was taken on by The Edge Nail and Beauty, a leading brand and distributor of professional nail and beauty products since the 90s. The Edge Nail and Beauty’s warehouse and customer service team are based in Basingstoke in Hampshire which is located approximately one hour away from south west London and around 50 minutes northeast of Southampton.
